Manta Ray Bay Resort Recognized in Condé Nast Traveler's 2025 List of Best Scuba Diving Destinations

Yap, Federated States of Micronesia – Manta Ray Bay Resort has been featured in the Condé Nast Traveler article, “The Best Scuba Diving in the World for Rare Species, Shipwrecks, and Coral Reefs,” published on June 10, 2025. The article highlights 17 top destinations worldwide for exceptional diving experiences.

Yap and Chuuk are listed together as standout locations in the Federated States of Micronesia. Yap is noted for its consistent manta ray sightings and opportunities to encounter these animals in their natural habitat. The article also highlights Chuuk Lagoon's concentration of World War II shipwrecks and diverse marine life.

In the section titled “Where to Stay,” Condé Nast Traveler names Manta Ray Bay Resort as the recommended option for those seeking “crowd-free dive sites in Yap.”
